Sunday Afternoon Sensory Feast:
Broadway Center presents Galumph
Acrobatic Modern Dance at the Pantages Theater February 12

Sponsored by National Endowment for the Arts and WESTAF

Tacoma, WA – In a showcase of stunning acrobatics, striking visual effects, physical comedy and inventive choreography, the Broadway Center presents Galumph on Sunday, February 12, 2012 at 3:00 p.m. at the Pantages Theater. Three performers create a sensory feast of images through acrobatic modern dance emphasizing shape-building where one performer lifts the other two off the ground. The resulting poses appear as spectacular feats of physical strength and beauty.

Formed in 2002 by Andy Horowitz and Greg O'Brien, Galumph delivers a fast-paced, athletic brand of movement, distinctive for its ingenuity. Performance highlights include "Velcro" as seen on The Late Show with David Letterman and Crook and Chase (TNN) and "Clackers," seen on MTV, Showtime, A & E, and by over one billion television viewers around the globe. Other pieces feature experiments in human architecture set to music by Rachmaninov, Mahler and the virtuoso Czech band Jablkoň, making an entertaining family program.

The show features choreographers Andy Horowitz, William Matos and Emiko Okamoto. Together they'll create images ranging from the ridiculous to the sublime, drawn together into a seamless whole. Their world-class, award winning choreography (Edinburgh Festival Critics, Choice Award, Moers International Comedy Arts Prize) brings a balanced mix of art and entertainment appropriate for all ages.

Tickets for Galumph are on sale now. Tickets are $15, $20 and $29. To purchase tickets call the Broadway Center Box Office at 253.591.5894, toll-free 1.800.291.7593, in person at 901 Broadway in Tacoma's Theater District or online at www.broadwaycenter.org.
